AMI Global Procurement Day!

Are you going to be at one of AMI's Global Procurement Days?

AMI Global Procurement Day is the American Meetings Network quarterly procurement engagement strategically designed to match our Meeting Planners and Sourcing Managers with our Partner Supplier Network. Join American Meetings in beautiful Fort Lauderdale, Florida for the day, network and educate us about your product/services.

Treated like a Partner... not a vendor. As an important part of our Network, we actively engage with your organization three ways during the year. At our Global Procurement Days, as part of our preferred sourcing process, and online with the American Meetings Network. Here you can connect and promote directly to our planners. Only supplier partners actively engaged in our network are permitted to participate in our conference.

Is anyone eligible? Unfortunately, no. AMI has specific criteria for a vendor to attend Procurement Day. This ensures we are meeting the needs of our planners, sourcing managers, our clients and our supplier partners.

What is discussed at AMI Global Procurement Day?

Our clients forecasted needs. AMI contracts and administers over 500+ meetings and events annually worldwide. To ensure fair and equitable networking, there are a limited number of spots available at the quarterly engagements, so reserve your spot today!

We're different. In a good way. Our supplier network and procurement day does not rely on a one way "sales pitch" mentality, but a yearlong engagement that assists our suppliers and our planners to work together to find a strong fit. A symbiotic partnership.

Did we tell you about the SWAG BAG? Ever wonder what it was like to get one of those SWAG BAGS at the Oscars? Well you are about to find out! Our suppliers are just as important as our planners. AMI Procurement Day boasts the industry's most incredible Swag Bag, and YES, our suppliers get one too.
